EVERY TEACHER AND EVERY PUPIL PRESENT IS SLOGAN FOR OUR GREAT SCHOOL RALLY

EVERY WHITE SCHOOL IN THE COUNTY IS EXPECTED TO HAVE A FLOAT OR OTHER SUITABLE DISPLAY IN THE PARADE WHICH WILL BE REVIEWED BY THE GOVERNOR AND OTHER STATE OFFICERS AND SCHOOL MEN—THE INTEREST OF OUR TEACHERS AND STUDENTS WILL BE TESTED BY THE SHOWING MADE ON THIS GREAT OCCASION—LET NO ONE FAIL TO MEASURE UP TO THE STANDARD OF THE BEST.

Local merchants and bankers have contributed suitable souvenirs to be distributed among the children of the various schools of the county. Only children attending the rally will receive these souvenirs. These souvenirs will be found in the office of Mayor N. B. Keathley, county court clerk. All teachers are expected to visit this office immediately upon reaching town. There they will register and give the number of children enrolled in their respective schools and the number attending the rally. This information must be given for the benefit of the judges in awarding the banner.

A beautiful banner will be given to the winning school by Mayor Keathley and Superintendent Ogilvie. The points to be considered by the judges in awarding the banner will be,

1—The best and most appropriate display in the parade.
2—The percentage of enrollment attending the rally.

The following gentlemen will be asked to act as judges in selecting the banner school.

John O. Bomer, W. H. Maxwell and Robert Sturdivant.

Arrangements have been perfected for a free picture show for the children in the afternoon. A fund for this purpose has been subscribed by the Brownsville merchants and court house officials. The following committee has been selected to select suitable and appropriate pictures for the afternoon picture show: Mrs. Mann Wills, Rev. A. C. Bell and Rev. E. L. Atwood.

The picture show will start at 2 o'clock and run till 6. Children living in town are requested not to go before 4 o'clock, in order that the country children may have full opportunity to see the pictures before having to leave for home.

The parade will form and start promptly at 10:30 at the High School building. All schools are requested to be on time and with the best floats and largest number of pupils possible.

We desire the floats and students to approach the High School building up West Main Street and turning north at the Berson cottage and drive around in front of the building for position. If the streets are full, drive in behind last float and stop.

The parade will move around to Key Corner street, down Key Corner to La Fayette, south on La Fayette to South side of square, then around square and down Washington to Franklin, then one block east to Church, north one block to College street; thence west to school building.

The parade is expected to be completed by 11:30 and all of those who desire to hear the speaking will go into the chapel. Many of the state officers will be here and other noted educators. A musical program will also be rendered.

The speaking will continue until 1 p. m., after which dinner will be spread on the ground. The various schools and people from those communities are expected to bring dinner. Each school may spread by itself or several may spread together as they may desire.

We hope we may secure a movie man to take a picture of the parade. If we succeed you can have the pleasure of seeing yourself in a moving picture. Let each one have the best float.

In the afternoon there will be a foot ball game on the Moses field between Haywood High and Bethel College. This will be the biggest day that Haywood county has ever had and our people should all show their appreciation and interest by laying aside business and attending the meeting. Come and

HERE HE IS

SENATOR GORE

Taylor, elected for the state at large on the democratic ticket, will address the voters of Haywood county tomorrow, Saturday, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the court house in Brownsville. Mr. Taylor is a nephew of "Our Bob" and is accounted one of the most eloquent speakers in the state. They are calling for him everywhere and the voters of Haywood are to be congratulated on being among the favored ones who will have an opportunity of hearing him in this campaign. Wherever he has spoken, he has aroused great enthusiasm. Let's give him a royal welcome and a great crowd tomorrow.

cent to 27 per cent, and that the business interests of the country have adjusted themselves to the new duty, and are prospering as never before. Further, the democrats have transferred the burden of government largely from the masses of the people and laid it on the income from the immense fortunes amassed under the republican tariff. "These are fruits of the democratic tree," he added.

"The democrats have enacted measures to forestall any 'dumping' of the cheap foreign goods on our shores when the war is over, the senator went on. "They have established a non-partisan tariff commission, to end tinkering with the subject without adequate knowledge to shape results. These are more fruits of the democratic tree."

"When you pass from the tariff, the republicans have a other arrow in their quiver," said Senator Gore.

"The democratic party has overthrown the money trust, has democratized credit," he declared, calling this "one of the fruits." Panics, he said, were periodical under the old system. Democracy has shown they are mostly preventable evils, and has enacted insurance against them. "This," said he, "is one of the golden fruit."

Senator Gore spoke eloquently of the federal trade commission that he said has been called a new charter of liberties for the business man, and of the Clayton law, which, by abolishing interlocking directors and similar evils, has rendered impotent the means by which giant combinations had for so many years crushed out honest competition.

"But the democrats have not confined their attentions to the business man alone," said the speaker. "They have found time to legislate for the farmer as well. Under the old banking system it was a crime for the banker to lend money on the farmer's land. Now the democratic administration has enfranchised the farmer in the business world."

Senator Gore briefly discussed the rural credits bill and the legislation to prevent cotton and grain market manipulations. "Hughes and Fairbanks call this administration a failure," said he. "And why should they not so characterize an administration which has done such great things for the farmer, whom they do not so much as mention in their platform, save for an ex post facto reference to rural credits."

The recognition given the farmer in recent legislation, declared the speaker, is more of the golden fruit of the democratic tree.

Senator Gore then took up the record of the labor laws passed by the democratic administration.

"For more than a generation," said he, "the laboring man has been appealing to the republican party to abolish the use of the injunction as an instrument of tyranny. In two years the democrats answered that request. For

Speech Delivered on Subject of Democracy: Wilson Administration

Praised: Says Party's Tree Has Borne Golden Fruit.

Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma spoke to a splendid audience in Nashville Monday night on the fruits of the democratic administration. He received a splendid introduction by Hon. Mann Wills of this city, a former school mate of the senator. Mr. Wills eulogized the administration of President Wilson and Gov. Rye: He declared that every democrat ought to be proud of the record of the democratic party of Tennessee in the last two years and he received tremendous applause when he commended "honest, affable, capable Tom Rye."

"Voting the democratic ticket," said Mr. Wills, "means peace; voting the republican ticket means war. You can't make anything else out of it."

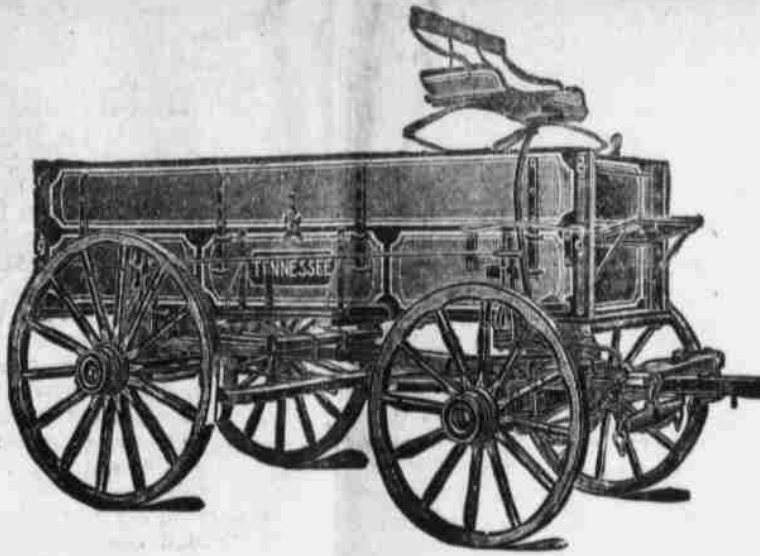

He then turned his attention to the speaker of the evening, alluding briefly to the time when Senator Gore and himself were school mates at Cumberland university. He spoke of the blind student as "a boy whom all learned to love," saying that God, who forever shut the sunlight from his eyes, gave him a brain that more than compensated for all that was taken away.

Senator Gore was roundly applauded when he entered the hall arm in arm with Mr. Wills. He began by paying tribute to Tennessee, saying that this state contributed to the national galaxy stars of the first magnitude. He spoke with feeling of the years spent by him at Lebanon.

The speaker said if any members of the opposition party had come out expecting to be showered with abuse,
